Overview

U.S. Ports of Entry

U.S. ports of entry are responsible for daily port specific operations. There are 327 official ports of entry in the United States and 15 pre-clearance offices in Canada and the Caribbean. Port personnel are the face at the border for most cargo and visitors entering the United States. Here U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) enforces the import and export laws and regulations of the U.S. federal government and conducts immigration policy and programs. Ports also perform agriculture inspections to protect the U.S. from potential carriers of animal and plant pests or diseases that could cause serious damage to the nation's crops, livestock, pets, and the environment.

For current or further information on U.S. and Texas ports, check the CBP website at <http://www.cbp.gov/xp/cgov/toolbox/ports/> or contact the CBP by phone as follows:
